DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-6 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Pat No 5,989,140 to Ichikawa et al.

Ichikawa et al. disclose a silent chain and sprocket assembly wherein the teeth 6a of the back-side sprocket 6 are low profile protrusions extending outwardly from the sprocket and the links of the inner and outer link rows form a surface, extending substantially the distance between the joining members, that overlies and conforms closely to the sprocket protrusions at a back-side of the chain. The links have a surface that defines two teeth extending from the link at a front-side of the chain. The low profile protrusions 6a are formed by two sprocket surfaces, the sides of the teeth, that meet at the protrusion and extend oppositely from each other a distance that is approximately the length of the back-side surface of the link plates.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ichikawa et al. in view of US Pat No 270,723 to Aydelott.

Ichikawa et al. disclose the subject matter of claim 6, as discussed above, but does not disclose generally flat sprocket surfaces that extend from the sprocket near their first and second ends. Aydelott discloses a sprocket with generally flat sprocket surfaces that extend from the sprocket near their first and second ends. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the assembly of Ichikawa with the back-side sprocket of Aydelott, as it is old in the art to utilize a sprocket with generally flat sprocket surfaces that extend from the sprocket near their first and second ends in a chain and sprocket assembly.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed September 6, 2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. However, the rejections under 35 USC § 112 have been removed. It is now the Examiner's understanding that a distance that approximates the distance from a center of a member joining the link to one adjacent row of links to a center of a member joining the link to another adjacent row of links is a distance substantially the length of the link along the chain direction.

In response to applicant's argument that Ichikawa does not teach driving contact, a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. In a claim drawn to a process of making, the intended use must result in a manipulative difference as compared to the prior art. See In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963). The surfaces of Ichikawa contact the sprocket. Applicant further argues that the flat surfaces of Ichikawa do not conform to the surface of the sprocket, yet as seen in Figure 1, they do conform to the sprocket as broadly claimed. Applicant argues the shape of the links of Aydelott, but the combination of Ichikawa and Aydelott refers only to the flat surfaces of the sprocket of Aydelott.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
